

In Corporate Welfare: Where's the Outrage?, Mark Cummingham, vice president of communications and marketing at the Beacon Center of Tennessee, said, "Our money is going to these billionaires in order to give them a competitive advantage. This is socialism for the rich."