

In Episode 2, "A Constitution for All," in the PBS series, A More or Less Perfect Union, the heated argument that exploded on a college campus over the right of free speech and freedom of the press, is an example of First Amendment debates igniting nationwide.

Credit: Mark Schierbecker via AP, File