ROBERT CHATFIELD

President/CEO/Executive Producer

Robert Chatfield has served as president and chief executive officer of the non-profit Free To Choose® Network (FTCN), a global media organization. He also leads FTCN's allied educational affiliate, izzit.org®, which distributes video-based educational materials to teachers at no cost.

During his nine years at FTCN, Rob has served as executive producer on eight public television projects and numerous stand-alone educational videos. He is a leading advocate to explain the linkages between capitalism and freedom.

Prior to joining FTCN, he was CFO of Fluid Imaging Technologies, a manufacturer of scientific instruments. He also served as a merger and acquisition advisor to private companies. Chatfield previously worked in corporate finance roles with Banknorth Group (now TD Bank) and Polaroid Corporation.

Chatfield is a lifelong learner, community servant, and an adventurer. He has long served as an adjunct professor for several colleges and universities, including a one-year visiting professor assignment at Suffolk University's campus in Dakar, Senegal. Additionally, Chatfield has participated in several humanitarian missions with Rotary International in the Dominican Republic, India, and Senegal.
